TEACHER PREPARATION PROGRAM REPORT

INTRODUCTION

2023 LOUISIANA TEACHER PREPARATION PROGRAM

INTRODUCTION

Louisiana Board of Regents prepared the 2023 Board of Regents Teacher Preparation Report as an independent initiative. This initiative aims to make Louisiana's teacher preparation program outcomes available to the public. The report features information about undergraduate and alternative teacher preparation programs, which include public and private university programs. This report contains specific data about teacher preparation program enrollment, completion, retention licensure test pass rates, and performance. Public and private university program providers have signed consent agreements with the Board of Regents and the Louisiana Department of Education to share this information.

Outcome data in the 2023 Board of Regents Teacher Preparation Report pertains to 2020-21 program completers who taught in 2021-22. Retention data has been provided for 2020-21 completers who taught in 2021-22. Moreover, five-year retention data are provided for 2016-17 completers who taught in 2017-18, 2018-19, 2019-20, 2020-21 and 2021-22.

Due to COVID-19, school districts did not conduct Compass teacher evaluations in 2019-20. During this time, Louisiana's public schools did not administer achievement tests. Compass teacher evaluations provide three-year averages for first- and second-year teachers who taught in 2018-19, 2020-21, and 2021-22.
